

This map displays a complex urban street grid. Major thoroughfares include the 'boulevard des Déportés' running east-west, and 'boulevard du Roi Albert' running north-south. A central canal, the 'canal de la Marne à la Scheldt', is a prominent feature. Landmarks such as the 'Maison de la Culture', 'Esplanade de l'Europe', 'Parc Communal', and 'Hôpital Civil' are clearly labeled. The map also identifies the 'GARE STATION' and several roundabouts, such as the 'Rond-point de l'Europe' and 'Rond-point St-Brice'. Numerous streets are labeled, including 'rue de la République', 'rue de la Liberté', and 'rue de la Paix'. The map uses a color-coded system: yellow for residential blocks, green for parks and public spaces, and blue for water bodies. The overall layout is a dense, irregular grid typical of a historic city center.
